

George J. Huntley
Chief Executive Officer
Diabetes Leadership Council
Lexington, Kentucky

George is a founding member of the Diabetes Leadership Council (501c3) and currently serves as CEO of both the Diabetes Leadership Council and its affiliate, the Diabetes Patient Advocacy Coalition (501c4). He has been living with type 1 diabetes since 1983 and has three other family members also living with type 1 diabetes. A passionate advocate for people with diabetes, George is a past national chair of the Board of the American Diabetes Association and currently serves as the treasurer of Children with Diabetes. A former CPA, George spent his business career as CFO of Theoris Group, Inc.; United Pentek, Inc.; and MicroProse Games, Inc. In his corporate roles, he was the plan administrator of self-insured, employer-based health plans for more than 25 years. He learned firsthand the impact of chronic disease management on his company's bottom line and the importance of strategic health plan design decisions to manage cost, reduce overall risk and improve health outcomes. George is also a highly rated and frequent speaker on the topic of health plan design and drug pricing.
